CORRESPONDENCE.
From Our Own Correspondent,
New York Times (1857-1922); Jul 5, 1870;
ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2006)
pg. 2

CHINA AND JAPAN.

The event of the day—the birth of a little scion to the Empress of China—has caused the most universal rejoicing and enthusiasm in the Far East, and the most general expression of congratulation and good wishes. The event, which has been the subject of considerable excitement and hopes, has been the cause of much rejoicing and delight. The event, which has been the subject of considerable excitement and hopes, has been the cause of much rejoicing and delight. The event, which has been the subject of considerable excitement and hopes, has been the cause of much rejoicing and delight. The event, which has been the subject of considerable excitement and hopes, has been the cause of much rejoicing and delight.

ROSSL AT HARVARD.

The Dean and the New-York State.

Mr. Secretary Seward.

Harvard list of "Building up" at Cambridge.

The Dean of Harvard has been much occupied of late with the question of the "building up" of the New-York State. He has been much occupied with the question of the "building up" of the New-York State. He has been much occupied with the question of the "building up" of the New-York State. He has been much occupied with the question of the "building up" of the New-York State.

An interesting letter from Mr. ..:

The results of the examination of Mr. .. have been published. He has been examined for the position of "building up" of the New-York State. He has been examined for the position of "building up" of the New-York State. He has been examined for the position of "building up" of the New-York State. He has been examined for the position of "building up" of the New-York State.